TRANSFORMING THE STUDENT EXPERIENCE

Curtin Connect will be the new vibrant hub for future and current student experience in buildings 101 and 102 at the University Central Precinct. It has been designed to provide an excellent experience for students and enable staff to provide personalised, responsive and agile customer service in a great working environment.

“One of the biggest things in business is to open yourself up for change.”

Jay Z - Music Artist
CREATING A DYNAMIC SPACE

Designing Curtin Connect has been a collaborative process that started with a vision to transform and enrich the student experience. Curtin Connect is an innovative way of unifying multiple enquiry counters and an array of contact points into a ‘one-stop-shop’ where students and visitors are welcome to walk in and get instant access to what they need – fast!

Curtin University engaged leading interior designers Geyer to convert the physical and philosophical requirements of the project into a resolved design which cleverly occupies the existing built-form of buildings 101 and 102 and enables the functionality of Curtin Connect.

“Design must reflect the practical and aesthetic in business but above all... good design must primarily serve people.”

Thomas J. Watson – Businessman
B102

Building 102 will become a dynamic space that provides a gateway for students to interact with Curtin staff and easily access the services and support they need to get the most out of their campus experience. Curtin Connect will be a welcoming and friendly space that will accommodate all ‘front of house’ interactions with a design objective to further improve the customer service experience for students and staff.

B101

Building 101 will be remodelled to comfortably and stylishly accommodate student engagement staff and provide pop-up places to casually meet, private spaces to consult with colleagues and personalised spaces to work.

CO-OP CURTIN UNIVERSITY BOOKSHOP

As part of the Greater Curtin Master Plan to create a vibrant student hub at the University Central Precinct, the Co-Op Bookshop will be relocated from B200 to B103 to ensure its close proximity to Curtin Connect.

“The details are not the details. They make the design.”

Charles Eames – Designer
The Curtin Connect project will be delivered while we continue to provide vital services and support to Curtin students.

In order to maintain business continuity it will be necessary to temporarily relocate student engagement staff and permanently relocate Human Resources and Curtin IT Services while construction is underway in buildings 101, 102 and 103.

“If we are going to help our students build a better future we need to find innovative ways to support them on their journey. The creation of Curtin Connect demonstrates how we are leading the way in the delivery of students services and support by providing a one-stop-shop at building 102 in the University Central Precinct.”

Deborah Terry – Vice-Chancellor

“Collaboration is the best way to work. It’s the only way to work, really.”

Antony Starr – Actor
